REDCLIFF REVIEW

OUR SLOGAN: An Industrial Metropolis of Industrious People Who Pull Together.

VOLUME 4 REDCLIFF, ALBERTA, FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1914. NUMBER 23

NUMBER THREE STOPS THREE MINUTES

Without Any Good Excuse, Redcliff Mail is Delayed Twenty Three Hours

Number Three, the C. P. R. flyer, that is too busy to stop at Redcliff, came in on time this morning at 9 a. m. and stopped here exactly three minutes, which was abundant time to deliver and take off the mail. But there was no mail for Redcliff. The mail was put off at Medicine Hat, where it will lay until ten o'clock tonight, when it will be brought in by another train. Twelve hours unnecesary delay by the C. P. R. and then eleven hours more before you can get it at the post office.

That's a nice mail service for the land between Medicine Hat and Calgary.

Peggers Are Pleased With Redcliff

The Redcliff Board of Trade has received the following communication from the Winnipeg business men who visited the town on May 25 last:

To the resident and members of the Board of Trade, His Worship and Council of Redcliff:

Dear Sirs—On behalf of the Trade Expansion Committee of the Industrial Bureau and the busines men of Winnipeg, who made up the special train party that visited your city recently, I wish to express our fullest appreciation for the most cordial reception given our party. Every member of the party was pleased and greatly surprised at the development that Redcliff is making. I can assure you that the busines men of Winnipeg greatly appreciate the warm greeting you tendered them on this occasion, and I am instructed to say that we will be delighted to reciprocate should your men of affairs at any time decide to pay Winnipeg a visit.

Cordially yours,
CHAS. F. ROLAND, Com.

GAS AND OIL COMPANY HOLD MEETING.

The officers and directors of the Redcliff Gas and Oil Company held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the offices of the company. President Martin, of the company, was present and stated that the drilling machinery would be here in a few days. The timbers for making the derrick has been ordered and should be along shortly, after which they will be put in place and drilling started. Mr. Martin is very enthusiastic over the prospects of striking oil here. He believes that oil will be found here at about 3,500 feet.

PIONEER GETTING READY.

Drilling Operations to Commence Next Week.

Manager Hayes received a telephone message from President Lockwood, of the Pioneer Oil Company, today saying the drilling machinery was shipped yesterday and will be in operation next week. Though the Pioneer was about the hundredth company organized, it will be about number nine among the companies that are drilling.

THIS SECTION BADLY IN NEED OF RAIN.

Rain is badly needed in this section of Alberta, and if it does not fall here in the next few days crops will suffer. Practically no rain has fallen this spring. The warm weather of the past few days has been very severe on the grain. The rain fall of yesterday was not heavy enough to do much good although it has broke the hot spell. A steady downpour of several hours' duration is the only thing that will save the young grain. It is earnestly hoped that rain will come in time to save the crops throughout this section of Alberta. Reports from the north country say that conditions there are excellent and that a good crop is looked for.

The Dingwall Tragedy

The Body Found Monday Afternoon Near Where He Was Drowned Nine Days Ago.

Thebody of Jack Dingwall, who was drowned while in swimming on May 24, was found floating on the river near the spot where he was drowned, by Joe Evans, of Redcliff, on Monday afternoon. It was the ninth day after the occurrence, and it was expected the body would come to the surface on that day. The Chief of Police and Constable Washford were patrolling the river bank between Redcliff and the Hat when the body was found.

Coroner Wall was summoned at once, and had the body removed to Robertson's undertaking establishment, from where the funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon. The Redcliff Caledonian Football Club, of which Mr. Dingwall was a member, looked after the funeral arrangements and attended the funeral in a body. The interment was in the Medicine Hat cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

Redcliff, June 3, 1914

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Dingwall wish to thank the Caledonian Football Club and the many friends of their son Jack for the sympathy shown to them in their great bereavement. They wish to assure the people of Redcliff the kind and comforting words have done no much to help them in their hour of trial. They wish especially to thank all those who have put forward their every endeavor in helping to recover the body. They beg to state that during their sad visit to Redcliff the kind words and actions of the many friends they have made have linked up memories with one they so dearly loved and with which they will always cherish.

THEY'RE COMING BACK HOME NOW

Shipley Brings a Wad That Would Choke a Cow—Beasley, Too.

O. M. Shipley was back at his desk Monday morning. Said he had to come to a quiet place where he could measure up his roll, distribute a few thousand certificates and get a little rest. Ship is a few hundred to the velvet, with promises to pay when various oil wells get to spouting, that will put him on the shady side of Easy street during the dog days at least.

Beasley, chef, and now silent partner at the Club Quick Lunch, was also in town for a few minutes on Monday. He is now a Calgary broker, and he says there's more money in oil than short orders, and that's going some. Tommy Hills didn't even have time to come down and say hello. He is also "broking" in Calgary. Some other missing citizens of Redcliff have not been heard from. But they'll come back when they get good and ready.

TENNIS COURTS NOW READY FOR PLAYING.

The first games were played on the tennis courts last Saturday and although the wind was high, which made playing very difficult, a very pleasant time was spent.

All members are invited to turn up for practice, as it is desirous of sending a few players to Medicine Hat on Saturday, June 6, to partake in a friendly tournament.

Later in the season a tournament will be held to decide the championship of Medicine Hat and district. This will take in a large territory, of which Redcliff will be part, and it will be the means of creating greater interest in the game, and giving players a chance to meet teams from other towns.

Great credit is due to the Medicine Hat Lawn Tennis Club who are arranging for this tournament, and we wish them every success in their undertaking. Intending members will please send in their names to the Secretary, box 6, Redcliff.

Quickleau Company Has Not Sold Out

Some street gossip crediting the Redcliff Quickclean Company with the sale of their discovery for $100,000, has been prevalent the past few days. Parties interested in the company say there is no foundation for the story. Mr Gough of the company, is in Chicago, but nothing has been heard from him about any sale of the product.

SEWER WORK TO BE COMMENCED THIS SUMMER

Trunk Sewer on Broadway and Laterals on Third and Fifth Streets Is all that Can be Done This Year ---An Expenditure of $200,000.

City Engineer Askwith is planning sewer work to be done this year to cost $200,000. A trunk sewer on Broadway, and laterals on Third and Fifth streets are all that can be financed this year. The plans, prepared by W. J. Francis, the eminent engineer of Montreal, have been received and when finally carried out, will involve an expenditure of about half a million. The trunk sewer will be built of brick and the laterals of sewer pipe made in this vicinity.

It is expected that the Council will prepare a by-law in the near future to be submitted to the burgesses for their approval, authorizing the town to issue debentures to cover work to be done this year.

In using brick for the trunk line the town will be using one of the chief products of the town and will be the means of keeping the brick plants in operation during the slack building season, and will answer the double purpose of keeping the money at home and giving employment to our citizens.

Sewer lines on the streets above named will be a great benefit to the town, as they will take care of the hotels, the central school building and several other buildings of more or less of a public nature.

CARLSTADT MEN AFTER OIL

More Than Ten Thousand Acres Have Been Filed on in That Locality.

CARLSTADT, June 5.—Upward of ten thousand acres have been filed on in this district. Sections 19, 20, 30, 31, 32 and 33 of township 16, range 10, and sections 6, 7 and 18 of township 17, range 10, have been secured by the British Canadian Oils, Ltd. Several local syndicates have obtained smaller parcels. Several sections have been filed on between here and Tide Lake by C. S. Pingle, M. P. P., C. F. Jamison and R. E. Campbell, M. P. P. for the Rocky Mountain constituency, have also secured holdings north of this place. An effort is being made to secure the services of Cunningham Craig to locate a site for the drill. The British Canadian Company offer to drill here at once if the business men will take $10,000 worth of stock. A thorough canvas is being made to secure that amount.

DINGMAN NOW A FLOWING WELL

CALGARY, June 4.—The Dingman well was uncapped on edneday afternoon and the result was a "flowing well."

Directly the cap was removed the well was connected up with the 12,000-gallon tank and the stream of oil poured into the huge receptacle for fifteen minutes through a two-inch pipe. Then the well was capped again, but not until a large amount of oil had forced its way from the well into heavy but it was thought advisable to defer the final test, as to the amount of fluid that would be forced by the gas pressure into the tank, until the city fathers were on the scene to-day.

The information in this case is authoritative, being furnished by Manager Dingman, whose announcements have always been of a most conservative nature. Naturally, he and the other directors are elated by the occurrence.

$15,000 By-Law Passed Unanimously

The burgesses voted unanimously last Monday in favor of the $15,000 by-law providing for the enlargement of the town hall and the building of a new fire hall. This was very gratifying to the Mayor and the Council, as it shows the confidence the ratepayers place in them. It is hoped to get this work started just as soon as possible so as to give employment to some of our citizens.

ORNAMENTAL IRON TO INCREASE ITS FORCE

The Ornamental Iron Company have received the plans for some of the contracts they received this spring and expect to be very busy in a few days now. This plant will undoubtedly be increasing its working force considerably in a very short time as the company has some large contracts on hand. There has been some delay in procuring the plans, but these are now being received and the molders and pattern makers will soon be turning out the designs for the moulders.

Breckner-Pederson

Miss Henraitta Pederson, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Mr. Frederick Breckner, of this city, were united in marriage last Wednesday evening, June 3, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hurd, the Rev. G. L. Gordon officiating. After the ceremony was over Mr. and Mrs. Breckner left for Banff on the 10.20 train, where they expect to spend a week. The parents of both the contracting parties reside in Minneapolis, and it was supposed that the young people were to be married there, but they evidently thought they would steal a march on the old folks by getting married here. The young bride has been here for the past month, as the guest of Mrs. E. F. Hurd. The young couple were the recipients of a number of useful as well as ornamental wedding presents.

Mr. Breckner is employed by the Ornamental Iron Company and is in charge of one of the departments of that plant. He came to Redcliff with the plant from Minneapolis a little over two years ago and is one of the few who came with the plant that remained.

The newly-weds went to Medicine Hat to take the train for the West, hoping to escape the charivaree that was prepared for them. The charivaree party went to the scene of the wedding, and finding that the couple had gone to the Hat, they all boarded the train at 10 p. m. and rode with them as far as Bowell. There was something doing on that train all the way. The rice was two feet deep on the floor of the car. W. T. Lovell assisted in giving the couple a send-off and sent his car to Bowell to bring the serenaders back home.

The Review extends its congratulations.

New Oil Company Formed in Redcliff

We are informed on reliable authority that a new oil company is being organized in Redcliff. The promoters of the company are all local business men some of whom have had a wide experience not only in conducting the affairs of large corporations but also in prospecting and drilling. At present we are not at liberty to publish the names of those interested as the organization is not yet completed. However, we are assured the new company has secured all leases in all the most promising districts of Southern Alberta and it is their intention to go exclusively into the prospecting and drilling business. They are most sanguine over their hopes for the future, and advise those with any lose change to save a little to invest in the new company when it is thoroughly organized.

GLASS WORKS CLOSES DOWN.

The Dominion Glass Works closed down last Wednesday for the purpose of rebuilding the glass furnaces. This has to be done at least once a year, and all glass companies so arrange it that this work can be done in the summer time, as it is almost impossible for the glass blowers to work in the heat during the summer. It is expected that the plant will be ready to reopen by August 15. This plant has been running night and day ever since it started last fall, and has been a great attraction to visitors in Redcliff.

A WHISTLING STATION

Redcliff Is Now Being Given a Tri-Weekly Mail Service by the Canadian Pacific.

Dating from last Saturday, Redcliff has been made a whistling station on the C. P. R., with a tri-weekly mail service, and deliveries from one to three days after they should be made. For instance—the Friday evening mail will be delivered on Saturday morning. The next delivery will be made on the following Tuesday morning. On other days, the deliveries will be made on the day after.

The new train schedule put into effect by the C. P. R. last Sunday relegates Redcliff to the stage coach and saddlebag days when there were no railroads.

Immediately following the announcement of the new schedule, Postmaster Hall, His Worship, Mayor Bott and the Board of Trade got busy. The Postmaster General was wired, the Superintendent of the R. M. S. consulted, and Supt. Cameron, of the C. P. R. was seen. The latter official denied all responsibility for the mail schedule. He said the C. P. R. was obliged to make a fresh burst of speed and could not stop No. 3 for an exchange of mails at this point, though it is stopping every day to let off and take on passengers. Supt. Davidson, of the R. M. S., professed to be helpless in the matter, and no relief is in sight from headquarters. The only relief in prospect at this writing is that the C. P. R. and the mail authorities may agree in allowing the mail to be kicked off from No. 3 at 9.10 A. M., though the train cannot stop a few moments longer to take on the mail. Redcliff business men are registering an emphatic protest against the new mail schedule, and may yet be given some consideration.

INTEREST IN BASE-BALL ON THE WANE

Locals May Go to Swift Current--Return Game the Last of Month.

Local interest in baseball has been decidedly on the wane since the oil strike. The most active fan and manager of the local nine is in Calgary seeking his fortune in oil speculation. The Swift Current club has invited the Redcliff Club to play a game in that city June 13, and the nine will probably go there on that date. A return game will be played here about the end of the month, when the Swift Current nine will also play at the Hat. The locals are getting some practice and playing a pretty strong game.

New Manager for Merchants Bank

Mr. F. R. Pike, formally manager of the Merchants Bank at Brooks, has been transferred to this city and becomes manager of the local branch of the same institution here. Mr. Pearson has been the manager here for the past three months, takes charge of the bank at Brooks.

Mr. Pike says that he is well pleased with Redcliff and that after getting acquainted with our people he will undoubtedly be well satisfied with his new position.

Mr. Bearisto, although only here for a short time, had made many friends, who are sorry to learn of his transfer.

(Special to The Review.)

CALGARY, June 5.—A. E. Swanson, formerly of Redcliff, now one of the oil kings of Calgary, expects to make a trip to Redcliff to-morrow.

W. S. Herron, pioneer of the oil district, who has extensive holdings in the oil fields, is now rated at eight millions.

The Mowbray-Berkeley, United Oils, McDougall-Segur, and Black Diamond oil wells still have to drill from 400 to 800 feet before they expect to reach the oil.

THIRD EXSHAW BANDIT CAPTURED

Located in a Cellar in Calgary---Captured by Being Flooded Out.

ALL NOW IN CUSTODY

Admits Holding Up Paymaster Wilson but Denies Doing the Shooting.

Afanacy Sokoloff, the third Exshaw murder suspect, was captured last Tuesday afternoon in Calgary. He was located in the cellar of an empty building in Tuxedo Park, Calgary. Sokoloff refused to come out of the cellar when ordered to do so by the police and, with the assistance of the fire department, they began to flood the basement.

After water had been poured into the cellar for ten minutes by two lines of hose the man signified his intention of surrendering by tapping on the floor. The officers chopped a hole in the floor, and after the bandit had handed up his Luger automatic revolver and his cartridge belt, containing sixty loaded shells, he was pulled up through the hole by the officers, handcuffed and taken to police headquarters. He was later transferred to the mounted police barricks. The prisoner admits that he was one of the three who held up the paymaster of the Exshaw cement works, but says he did not do the shooting, although the other two claim he was the ringleader. Max Manelick was captured shortly after the murder of Paymaster Wilson, and Joe Smith, the other bandit, was captured at Cochrane the following day.

The three men had a hearing at Banff yesterday and were bound over for trail on the charge of murder in the first degree.

The murder of Paymaster Wilson took place at Exshaw two weeks ago to-day.

FOR A BETTER MAIL SERVICE

Superintendent Coleman, of the C. P. R., Wants to Know What Is the Matter.

The Redcliff Board of Trade received the following telegram on Wednesday:

Calgary, June 3, 1914.

C. S. Rice, Secretary Redcliff Board of Trade, Redcliff:

Have sego your despatch of June 1. I shal'l be glad to know in what respect the new train schedule of the C. P. R. places your town at a disadvantage as compared with former time tables. You have exactly the same number of trains as before except that No. 3 is flag instead of stop. What difference does it make as long as the train can be stopped whenever there are passengers for it.

D. C. COLEMAN.

Answering Supt. Coleman, the Secretary of the Board wired the following:

Redcliff, June 3, 1914.

Have no complaint about passenger service. We need delivery and patch of mail on No. 3, otherwise receive only one mail each day—at 10.10 p. m., too late for delivery same day. No. 3 always stops, why can't mail be thrown off here?

A. E. SWANSON NOW FISCAL AGENT FOR PIONEER CO.

Mr. William M. White, who was made fiscal agent of the Pioneer Oil Company when that company was organized, has been relieved of that position and Mr. A. E. Swanson, of Redcliff, has been chosen to succeed him. This will be good news to the shareholders of Pioneer stock, as Mr. Swanson has the confidence of all who know him.

The Mayor Invited to Calgary.

His Worship, Mayor Bott, has been invited to deliver an address on "The Making of a New City" before the Town Planing Convention at Calgary, June 16.

Empress Disaster Discussed at Ottawa

The marine disaster off Father Point overshadowed all else on Parliament Hill last Saturday morning. When the house opened a feeling of depression and gloom pervaded the chamber. The Prime Minister took his seat with a copy of the latest extra in his hand, and during the preliminary proceedings the early story of the catastrophe was perused by him.

When the orders of the day were called the Premier rose with the paper in hand: "I would like to say just a word," he said, "respecting the disaster, tidings of which have been brought to us to-day. In awful suddenness and in dreadful toll of human life taken the disaster is one which brings a shock such as we in this country have never felt before. I am speaking of the earlier reports. Later reports are more reassuring. I sincerely hope they are true.

"That this ship, only two hours out from Quebec in the dead of night and with 1,500 passengers on board, should be so badly damaged as to sink in ten or twenty minutes, comes to us in this country and this house as a most appalling shock. I do not believe from the reports which have come in that this is a disaster which could have been averted by anything the country could have done in rendering more safe the navigation of the St. Lawrence River. It came in a fog and could not have been prevented by any safeguards to navigation. In view of the magnitude of the disaster it is fitting that something should be said in this house that we should express our deep regrets for the disaster, and our profound sympathy for those bereaved."

"The hand of fate has been heavy against us, during the past few months," said Sir Wilfred. "This is the third disaster on the St. Lawrence route since navigation opened two months ago, and in loss of life it has surpassed anything since the wreck of the Titanic. In proportion of the loss of life this even excels the Titanic itself. It is premature to express an opinion on the disaster, but it is difficult to believe that such an accident could take place in the St. Lawrence as our Father Point and not be prevented.

"I will not pass judgment, and I hope it will turn out to be one of those disasters which could not have been prevented by human agency. The sympathies of all will go out to the victims, and perhaps substantially in another way later on. I will join with the Premier in extending to the families of those who have been lost our sincerest and depest sympathy."

To Move to the Peace River Country

Mr. Nolan was a most interesting visitor to our town this week. He stopped off here to visit his old friend, Mr. Comstock, a rancher near Suffield. Mr. Nolan is from Iowa, but has been in the Peace River district since last March. His thirteen-year-old and twenty-year-old daughters have been with him in the North Country. Mr. Nolan is a big farmer in Iowa, but was just out on a tour of inspection looking up the many advantages offered in Western Canada. He is delighted with the soil and climate of the Peace River district, and says it is destined to become Canada's greatest farming centre. Mr. Nolan is on his way back to Iowa to dispose of his farm there and move to Peace River as soon as possible.

On his journey back from the North country Mr. Nolan and his two daughters were thirty-five days in the saddle and thoroughly enjoyed the trip.

COMMUNICATIONS.

While we are always glad to publish communications dealing with questions pertaining to the welfare of the town we do not hold ourselves responsible for views expressed in them. We will be pleased to publish any such so long as the privilege is not abused, and always reserve the right to accept or reject them. We will allow no personal spite to be aired under this heading.—Ed.

TOWN BUILDING.

To the Editor of The Review:

It is an old idea that to successfully build up a town no person should settle in it at first but men of means. That idea is all right so far as it goes, but for practical town building, mechanics are needed to a great extent. Now, take a superintendent of construction in any town and vote him so much money to use on public works, he is bound to have skilled men on every branch of work he undertakes, to make a success of each particular job, and to keep the expenses of each branch of civic work within the limits of expenditure, allowed by the ratepayers. On the other hand if a superintendent is minus sufficient mechanics, and entrusts his work entirely to the laborer, the work goes on slower, causes dissatisfaction and worry to the superintendent, and usually costs more money in the long run than would otherwise be allowed. Therefore, in view of the work that this town will have to undertake in the near future, to bring it to a modern standing, thereby attracting the manufacturer, the investor and the home builder, do not turn the mechanic down who comes to our town and strives to get a footing so as to build a home and help to boost the locality. About five weeks ago a mechanic came into town and eventually got a job as a laborer on the town staff. The laboring men and others in the town soon started to kick, which caused a lot of unpleasantness, and eventually the kick prevailed, and he became idle again, thereby giving him a bad impression of the town. But no doubt he is happy in the thought that things will alter as time rolls on. He is a married man, has had nine years on civic construction work in one of our Western cities, also ten years on mill and other construction work in the Old Country. If, he is given a little encouragement no doubt some day he will become a most desirable citizen.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space, I am yours truly,

ALF ROWLAND.

HOW ABOUT THE CHICKENS.

Editor of The Redcliff Review:

I would consider it a favor of you would kindly state my complaint through the medium of your paper. It has cost me just $60 to fence and garden my lot and now we have just a stand and keep the fowl out. You spoke some time ago about hearing the song of the lawn mower. The chickens will save us the expense of a mower. I should like here once again to ask the Council if it is just to a ratepayer who is trying to make the place respectable and tidy to be annoyed in this way. If the Council is loosing interest in the town, do you think our Secretary-Treasurer would state the law, so that the public might know what can be done without committing themselves. Yours truly,

RATEAYER.

SEVERAL NEW VISITORS IN REDCLIFF THIS WEEK.

A larger number of visitors have been in Redcliff this week than for several weeks past. There is no apparent reason for this except that they have heard of this town and have dropped in to see what development has taken place here in the short period of four years. Some were asked to give their opinion of our town and in every instance they had nothing but praise to offer. This is very gratifying to those who have helped to build the town, and it shows how Redcliff is looked upon by strangers.

While business conditions here are not all that could be desired yet the traveler sees a marked difference between this town and most of the others he has visited.

THE WEEKLY SUN AND FREE FOOD

Believes Free Food Would be Against Farmers' and Consumers' Interests.

"How is the Eastern farmer to fare if the new tariff for the abolition of the Canadian duties on all kinds of food should prevail?" enquires the Weekly Sun. "When reciprocity was advocated in 1911 it was maintained that, notwithstanding our duties on his various products, the Canadian farmer got less for them in the home market than he would get if they were admitted free to the United States. This was the cardinal plea for reciprocity. Is it now it is asserted in effect that, speaking generally, the cost of living is higher on this side of the line than on the other, and they would repeal the Canadian duties on food of every sort in order to afford relief to the artisan and other wage-earners. It is obvious, however, that if they reduced the home price of food they would damage the farmer's interests. And how could Ontario supply fruits, canned goods, meats and dairy produce to the West if those commodities were allowed in free from the neighboring States? The orator who addresses himself to this subject employs a variety of sophistical arguments that puzzle the audience and probably himself as well.

"Everyone knows that, in the face of the existing Canadian duties, the West is importing increasing quantities of butter, pork, poultry, vegetables, raw fruit, canned fruit and canned meats from the States. The American producer has the advantage of geography over the producer in Old Canada as well as in most cases of climate; in addition to which his canneries and packing houses do a far larger business than ours, and as a rule turn out cheaper goods for that reason. It is not necessary to labor the point that if our duties were removed the co-opertive movement outlined by the Sun would come to grief."

The attitude of such a well known farm paper should cause every Canadian to consider carefully where he stands on this important question. It should always be borne in mind that it is much easier to tear down than build up. Once we take our food duties off and allow American food products to be dumped into Canada free of duty whenever it suits the American food producer to ship into our market, we would build up interests which would make it next to impossible to shut them out again.

TELL HOW TO KEEP THE MONEY AT HOME

A Western Company's Advice to the Farmers of Saskatchewan

With the rapid development of industrial centres in Saskatchewan and other Western Provinces, the time is coming when the Western farmer will have all he can do to cater to the home market demand.

"A great opportunity is here and we trust you will make your best effort to meet it," says the Saskatchewan Creamery Company, Limited, in a circular to the farmers of Saskatchewan. "The cold season is approaching, when the supply of cream will decrease. There are large quantities of outside butter being sold in the Province to-day, because the demand is greater than the local production. We trust you will feed your cows liberally and produce a large amount of cream, so that you can ship frequently and help keep the money at home, that is now being sent to other parts of the world."

PRICES IN 1841

Toronto Globe on High Cost of Living Seventy Years Ago

According to the Toronto Globe factory cotton sold for 17 cents a yard in 1841 when there was no duty on it. To-day it costs on the average less than 10 cents, some qualities selling as low as 5 cents. It seems evident therefore that the policy of encouragement to home industry which has built up vast cotton factories in Canada has done so without burdening the consumer.

Those who lived in the good old days had more grounds for complaint about the high cost of living than we have to-day. Years ago Canadians had little money to buy with. To-day they have money even for high priced goods.

PAY-ROLL FARMING

A Successful Mixed Farmer—The Development of Urban Centres

The location of manufacturing industries in certain Western towns is affording a ready market for the diversified and perishable products of the mixed farmer. To-day one of the farmers in the C.P.R. irrigation block in Alberta is able to carry practically the entire running expenses of a big farm out of the proceeds from his dairy, poultry and garden. This diversified farmer has the advantage over the straight grain raiser in that he has many days in the year when he is receiving cash in settlement for his produce as against only one day when the grain farmer sells his grain to the elevator.

Pays as He Goes

The farmer in question lives near Gleichen. He has spent some $2,000 on improvements, has 135 acres in crop, 75 acres summer fallowed or broken for next year, and 70 head of stock. He employs two hired men, one all the year round, and the other for the summer season only. The fact that he favors mixed farming enables him to pay his way as he goes. With from 13 to 18 cows in milk, his average cheque from the sale of cream is $110 per month. He has eight work horses which, besides his own use, have netted him $900 this past summer. He sold in June $1,200 worth of hogs, and will have two more carloads ready for shipment in November, besides keeping the household in meat—no small item this, for besides his hired men he had extra men around all summer, building.

Farm and Factory Interchange

As factory chimneys increase in Calgary, Medicine Hat, Edmonton and elsewhere, the possibilities of mixed farming will be still greater. Every new factory of any account means at least one hundred more mouths to be fed. Unlike the grain farmer, the mixed farmer cannot ship his products over great distances because of their more or less perishable nature. It is the factory worker and his family who must absorb the greater part of the products of the mixed farmer. All economic history proves that the prosperity of the farmer is greater where there is a constant and convenient interchange between products of the farm and the factory. This is the aim of Canada's present trade policy, and that it is succeeding is borne out by such figures as are quoted above, and many others which could be cited from other parts of Western and Eastern Canada.

MIXED FARMING

What a Grain Dealer Says About a Convenient Home Market

Mr. James Carruthers of Montreal, one of the largest grain dealers in Canada, at the conclusion of his recent trip through the West said that the farmer in the West depended in the future for success in taking up mixed farming. He stated that he had urged this wherever he went and he plainly could see the danger under present conditions if there was a failure in the wheat crop.

Large Packing Plants

Mr. Carruthers said that about Edmonton there were many large packing firms and that farmers were beginning to raise pigs and sheep and cattle and use the coarser grains and oats in feeding them, and he said that it was paying them well. Mr. Carruthers stated that at present, the farmer was getting some protection.

The railway companies, said Mr. Carruthers, have seen the importance in educating the farmers to take up mixed farming and have spent thousands of dollars on it. They understand that the good name of the country depends on it and that prosperity will follow which will attract more people to the country.

With the steady development of industrial and wholesale centres in Western Canada there is an increasing market for the products of mixed farming. Apart however from this convenient home market, which is steadily increasing in size, many of the products of mixed farming, through modern cold storage facilities, can be shipped advantageously to foreign countries.

SUGAR IN THE STATES

Reduction in Price Was Brought About by Competition

Practically the only article of universal consumption that shows a big decline in price in the last year in the United States is sugar, the cost of which is about $ per cent. lower than it was in 1913. In fact the price of sugar has not only declined in 1913 as compared with 1912, but it is the only commodity in a big list on which data has been gathered by the United States

CYPRESS HILLS COUNTRY TO BE PROBED FOR OIL.

What may, perhaps, develop into another field has been taken up by J. L. Jennison, of Jennison and Craig, J. F. Bradford and other associates in the cypress Hills district, about thirty miles southeast of Medicine Hat.

Messrs. Jennison and Bradford have taken up about 25,000 acres of land in the district and have organized a company capitalized at $1,500,000 for the purpose of prospecting and developing his area. The shares will appear on the market shortly.

The sales cropping out on part of the land taken up show oil seepages to a marked extent and the anticlines are very distinct.

So far back as 1881 a Dominion geologist named Dawson made an exhaustive report on the Cypress Hill fields / which special mention is made of the seepages found.

Short Cut Via Hudson Bay

Once completed, the Hudson Bay railroad will shorten the distance between the grain fields of Minnesota, the Dakotas, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and other west Canadian provinces, and the ports of northern Europe by approximately 1,000 miles. Next to the building of the Panama canal this opening of a four-months' short cut between northern Europe and northwestern America is the most significant trade happening of late years. A small boy who was sitting next to a very haughty lady in a crowded omnibus kept on sniffing in a most annoying manner. At last the lady could bear it no longer, and turned to the lad.

"Boy, have you got a handkerchief?" she demanded.

The small boy looked at her for a few seconds, and then in a dignified tone, came the answer:

"Yes, I have, but I don't lend it to strangers."

The old man went to the platform and studied the bulletin board seriously. Then he returned to the window. "Did you say my train would be along in ten minutes, suh?" he asked anxiously.

"Yes, uncle."

"All the trains are on time. Some one's tampered with the bulletin board" declared the clerk, and resaled to the platform.

He stared for a moment at the board, then at the negro. Slowly his face relaxed into a broad grin. The bulletin read:

"All trains on time—Sept. 1."

A young man happened to be present at a party. One of the company offered him a glass of whiskey. He declined with thanks, saying that he was a teetotaller. Unfortunately for himself, he had a very red nose, not at all like that of one who abstained from intoxicating liquor.

"I have done my best," said the lawyer.

"Well," continued the client, "I want to ask you another thing—not professionally, however. As a friend, and man to man, who do you think stands the best chance of getting the property when I am gone?"—Harper's Magazine.

Sciatica Vanishes Instantly If Nerviline Is Used

CAN YOU BEAT THIS CASE?

No ordinary liniment will even relieve sciatica. Nothing but the most powerful kind of a remedy can penetrate through the tissues and finally reach the sciatic Nerve. You can always depend on the old-time "Nerviline." Nothing mad, today is as good for Sciatica as Nerviline was when first produced, about forty years ago. All the time the same old "Nerviline" has been curing Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, and is considered to be without an equal in relieving pain or soreness anywhere. "Nerviline" couldn't be made stronger or better," writes James E. Edwards. "The way it cures Sciatica is to me simply a miracle. For years I suffered frightfully. I ruined my stomach with internal dosing. I rubbed in gallons of oils and liniments—none were strong enough. One good rubbing with Nerviline relieved. I kept on rubbing and shortly was cured. My father cured rheumatism in his right arm and shoulder with Nerviline and my mother cured herself of chronic lumbago with Nerviline. Our family simply swears by Nerviline and we are never without a 50c family size bottle in our home. We find that for external pain, for coughs, colds, earache, such as this it is a veritable family physician."

The Hats Got Mixed

The other afternoon I was in a gentleman's outfitting shop when a customer came in to purchase a hat. He tried on several, and was evidently hard to please, the counter becoming covered with the rejected. At last the salesman picked up a brown felt bowler, brushed it round with his arm, and extended it admiringly.

"These are being very much worn this season, sir," he explained.

"Are they?" said the customer thoughtfully, surveying himself in the mirror, with his hat on his head. "Do you think it suits me?"

"Suits you to perfection, sir, if the fit's all right."

"Yes, it fits very well. So you think I had better have it?"

"I don't think you could do better, sir."

"No, I don't think I could, so I won't have a new one."

The salesman had been praising up the old hat.—Answers.

A correspondent from Chesshire, England, says: "I came upon a small village not long ago who was merrily fishing with an improved rod and hook in the muddy waters of the canal. I cannot but believe that he will make a great fisherman some day, for he seemed to have the dogged perseverance necessary for the craft. But he was clearly far from happy. He paid no attention to me at all, but mournfully pursued the matter in hand. 'What are you doing?' I asked him at last. 'Fishin' for snigs,' he replied in a lifeless voice. 'What are snigs?' I inquired. 'I don't know,' he replied, drearily. 'I've never caught any yet.'"

An American girl was taking a Liverpool girl home to the States with her, and towards the end of the journey, remarked:

"It is delightful to feel that one is so near home. We ought to sight Sandy Hook this afternoon."

"Shall we?" exclaimed her friend. "That will be nice. Don't tell me which he is! I can always pick a Scotsman out of a crowd.

It is well known that in the bed of the St. Lawrence river, the inlets of the great lakes, there are in many places masses of rocks that make its navigation dangerous, except to reliable men whose knowledge of the safe channels is unquestioned. "Captain do you know where all the rocks are in this river?"

In his patient, deliberate manner, he replied: "No, ma'am. I don't know where all the rocks are. But I know where the channel is."—Christian Herald.

A Scottish farmer of a miserly disposition bought a horse at a fair. On the way home he thought a drink of water would refresh it, so he got a pail of water; but the animal would not take it. When he got home, he offered it a feed of corn; but to his surprise it would not touch that, either.

"Weel," he muttered to himself, "if only I was sure ye were a guid worker, ye're the verra horse for me."

Acceptance of Life

Nothing short of the life of the mind will lift a man out of the chain of destructive circumstances. Reconciliation is what all philosophy, all religion, all ethics aim at. They aim to reconcile man to what is, his spirit to the nature of things, his pride to the fails that visit it, his work to the tentative and futile results of that work. Not as a broken-spirited dog cowers at the master's feet do they accept existence as a lover gives his acceptance as a lover gives the wish of his mistress.—Harper's Weekly.

NEW MAIL SERVICE

The new mail service that went into force last Monday morning is one of the worst that could have been inaugurated for Redcliff. Under the present service the people of this town will receive no mail from the east from 9.10 a. m. Saturday to 9.10 a. m. Tuesday. By what course of reasoning the postal authorities adopted this service is hard to tell, considering the fact that Redcliff is on the main line of the C. P. R. and is one of the most important towns on that system in the West. This is a terrible handicap to the business interests of the town and should be changed. For a place of 3,500 people this town has a very heavy mail. This is accounted for from the fact that Redcliff is essentially a manufacturing town and the mail service is a very important matter to them. Everything possible should be done by our public bodies to see that the service is changed.

It seems to us that the postal authorities and the C. P. R. should get together and give the country a better mail service.

It is a well-known fact that the mail service of Canada is one of the poorest and we believe it is because the government allows the railroads to dictate the terms on which it will carry the mail; and then again if by any chance a railroad should have a divisional superintendent who is not any too friendly to a town on his division he is very likely to arrange the running time on that division so as to hurt that town all he can. This, we believe, is the trouble at the present time. Train No. 3, that arrives here at 9.10 a. m. each day, carries the mail, but because the divisional superintendent on this division has made Redcliff a flag station our mail is put off at Medicine Hat and is brought to Redcliff by No. 13, which arrives here at 10.20 p. m., thirteen hours later. No. 3, although a flag train, stops here every day to discharge or take on passengers and there is no reason why this same train should not bring the mail through and drop it off here and receive the outgoing mail, as it could be done while pasengers were being discharged and would occasioon no additional delay.

THE RUTHENIAN SCHOOL CASE

The recent attack on Hon. J. R. Boyle, Minister of Education, by the Ruthenian press of Edmonton, will do that gentleman no harm. Rather, the manner in which he handled the case in point will boost his stock 50 per cent. with the people who are bent on making this a loyal province in the British Empire.

Mr. Boyle followed the only logical method of dealing with the case and did so with a strong hand, which will teach the Ruthenian population a much needed lesson. The Ruthenians may be a desirable class of citizens as developers of our resources, but unless they assimilate themselves to Canadian laws and customs, including our language, we want none of them.

It is freely admitted that the non-English speaking foreigner who comes to Canada at an advanced age will seldom make the best citizen. The hope is in the second generation, and that hope will have its fulfilment through the public schools—our great assimilator.

Mr. Boyle won a notable victory in the case cited. He will have the backing of all good Canadians in following it up, and using the most drastic measures to gain his point.

Children Taken Care of by Post Office

The British post office is one of the most accommodating services in the world. For instance, for the due postage paid it will conduct a person from one address to another in any given city by express messenger.

It will, and occasionally does, send an express messenger to meet a child at one railway station and see it safely across London to another.

In the same way it sometimes conducts strangers round London, the cost being the ordinary milage fee, plus the fare of a conveyance if a cab or omnibus is taken.

Living animals are also accepted for express delivery, if they are confined in a suitable receptacle, or, in the case of big dogs, if they are provided with collar and chain.

Nearly any package can be dispatched by mail.

The post office, however, is rarely required to perform special services for living things. They fall more frequently to the District Messenger service.

"Just now, for example," Mr. Arthur Lord, the general manager of the District Messenger company, informed a newspaper representative, "we are busy meeting children arriving in London from school. We meet them at the station, and in some cases give them some lunch or tea, then show them round the town, and see them safely off home from another station.

"The same system applies to dogs and cats, especially to prize cats, which are sent up to London in crates or hampers. I remember that one lady used to write each time, 'Please see that the cat does not get in any draughts.'

"We have also taken an elephant, and at another time a donkey, across London."

Recalling other services that can be and occasionally have been performed by district messengers, Mr. Lord pictured a boy in neat blue uniform wheeling a perambulator and doing his best to amuse the baby, whilst its mother and the servant had to be away from home.

TOTAL PROHIBITION WANTED FOR ALBERTA

Total prohibition of the liquor traffic in Alberta is the object on which the temperance people in the province have set their eyes. It is intended to introduce a petition under the direct legislation act in the legislature this fall. Under this act any number of electors, forming not less than 20 per cent. of the total votes polled at the previous general election, may present a petition to the legislature asking for the enactment of any proposed act. The legislature, on receiving such a petition for any act, may either pass the act without amendment, or only such amendments as do not constitute a substantial alteration. If the legislature desires to make any important amendments to the act it must be submitted to a vote of the electors, the writ for the election to issue not later than three months, nor later than ten months after the close of the session.

The legislature of Alberta, having passed an act providing for the establishment of juvenile courts, a proclamation bringing the Dominion act into force is necessary.

A Betrayed Confidence That Led to an Indian War

A young United States army officer—Tom Custer, brother of Gen. George Custer—was taken by a government scout in 1874 to witness a strange Sioux ceremony, the ceremony of granting tribal honors to certain Indian braves.

The scout (so he later declared) consented to take Custer to the ceremony only on the officer's solemn promise never to tell any one what he might see or hear there. The youthful Indian who was to undergo ordeals and receive honors that day was a Sioux known as Rain-in-the-Face.

To test the youth's endurance, his fellow savages put him to various forms of torture, one detail being to suspend him from the top of a pole by skewers stuck through the muscles of his shoulders. Then he was called upon to tell of any special deed of prowess he had performed.

Rain-in-the-Face, in answer to this request, told of meeting two white men in the mountains. He said they had disregarded his "peace sign" and had fired on him. Whereat he had followed them for days, and at last had killed and scalped them while they were asleep.

Tom Custer was filled with indignation at the tale. He galloped to the nearest fort and, disregarding his alleged promise, repeated to the military authorities there the confession he had heard. A company of cavalry was at once sent to capture Rain-in-the-Face.

The Indian was seized, dragged to the fort and locked up there, pending his trial for murder. The hut in which he was imprisoned was unheated and half full of drifted snow. Rain-in-the-Face broke out, stole a horse and galloped for the distant mountains. Only once did he pause in his flight. That was when he chanced to meet a man who was on the way to the fort. To this traveller the Indian entrusted a message.

"Tell Tom Custer that some day I will cut his heart out!"

The reservations and other Indian haunts were no longer safe refuges for the fugitive. So he fled to the mountain camp of a band of Sioux murderers, horse thieves and other outlaws, whose "medicine man" was the infamous Sitting Bull.

At once Rain-in-the-Face became a leader in this savage horde. He was the type of man who would have been a leader anywhere. What Sitting Bull accomplished by craft this new chieftain accomplished by force. He helped weld together a gang of cutthroats into a fairly effective fighting machine, and to fan to fresh fury their hatred for the white man.

Rain-in-the-Face was making ready to fulfill his threat against Tom Custer and revenge himself on the white race in general. Soon, under his urging and that of Sitting Bull (whom he despised as a coward), the band was ready for the warpath. And the war began.

There were the customary running fights, depredations, butcheries and tortures that have accompanied nearly all Indian wars. The climax came on June 26, 1876, when, near the Little Big Horn, Gen. Custer's force rode into an ambush skilfully planned by Rain-in-the-Face and Sitting Bull.

There was a fierce battle—a battle of annihilation. The soldiers, outnumbered and out-manoeuvred, were slaughtered almost to a man. Even in the forefront of the fight raged Rain-in-the-Face, seeking Tom Custer. Twice he was wounded—once in the thigh, once in the knee—by bullets. But he kept on in his quest. At length (according to his own story), he came face to face with the man whose heart he had sworn to cut out.

Rain-in-the-Face, shouting aloud his own name as he rushed on his foe, struck Tom Custer dead. Then, kneeling on his victim's chest, knife in hand, Rain-in-the-Face fulfilled his horrible threat. He boasted, too, that it was he who fired the shot which killed Gen. Custer, Tom's superior officer and elder brother.

The Custer battle news roused the whole country. With an overwhelming force, Gen. Miles advanced against the Indians. They retreated toward the Canadian border. And, on Canadian soil, Rain-in-the-Face remained in comfort until it was safe for him to return to the United States.

CAPITAL AND PROFIT WHAT IS FAIR RETURN?

Grain Growers' Grain Company Made a Twenty-five Per Cent. Profit

According to the annual statement of the Grain Growers' Grain Company presented at their annual meeting in Winnipeg on November 13th, profits for the year amounted to $164,332 on a paid up capital of $646,361, which is equal to about 25½%. The profits would have been nearly 50% had not the Company lost over $170,000 in the export grain business. The statement was generally accepted by the shareholders as a most satisfactory one. The assets of the company are also in very good shape, and their real estate is increasing in value every year.

Several Canadian papers comment on the goo' showing made, among them the "Canadian Courier," which asks and discusses the following pertinent questions:

"Should a manufacturer in Eastern Canada, who is making a profit of twenty per cent. on his investment, reduce the price of his wares to the public? This is a question which has often been asked and never satisfactorily answered. How would it be to refer it to the Grain Growers of the West, among whose members are men who think the Eastern manufacturer is a robber and bloodsucker? Would this be too hard on the manufacturer, do you think? Well, let us see.

"On November 13th, in the city of Winnipeg, 450 shareholders of the Grain Growers' Grain Company assembled for their annual meeting. These are the people who are said to maintain the 'Grain Growers' Guide,' the paper which is regarded severe on the Eastern manufacturer. This grain company has a capital of $646,000, and during the year just ended earned more than 25 per cent. No one criticised these enormous profits. No farmer shareholder called the company a robber or bloodsucker. Every one was pleased. A ten per cent. dividend was paid, and the rest of the cash carried forward. Isn't that the answer? If the Grain Growers' Grain Company complacently accept twenty-five per cent. dividend, are not all other people in business entitled to do the same? Does not this justify the bankers and manufacturers in accepting a similar return on their investment?"

BILLION DOLLAR NATION

Trade Statistics Show the Wise Policy is to Keep as Much Money as Possible in Our Own Country

Canada is about to become one of the billion dollar nations. Her total foreign trade in 1912, exclusive of movements of precious metals, was $997,555,301, an increase of $198,806,058 over 1911. Of the total, $547,858,264 was trade with the United States, an increase of $150,191,578 over 1911. The exports to the United States were $138,217,488; and the imports from the United States were $419,040,770.

Canada's chief purchases from the United States were metals, minerals, and manufactures of $135,145,151; coal and coke, $41,117,886; wood and manufactures of $34,982,976; carriages, wagons, etc., $17,486,397; cotton and manufactures, $15,935,766.

These figures show that the United States is taking over $1,000,000 per day from Canada and even after deducting our exports we find ourselves indebted to the United States for over $750,000 per day which we must borrow abroad to pay our debts. The figures clearly suggest even to a lay reader that we should strive in some way to keep more of this vast sum in Canada where it would circulate over the counters of Canadian merchants, in the pay envelopes of Canadian mechanics, in the purse of the Canadian farmers; in a word in Canada among Canadians. The enormous adverse balances of trade in favor of United States is a serious matter for a young country and it behooves all of us to consider whether we are doing all we can to keep our money working for us at home. A policy of practical patriotism is badly needed.

THE WILSON TARIFF, THE COST OF LIVING

No Material Change, But Increases if Anything, in the Price of Food

During the Presidential campaign in the United States the Democrats made much of the argument that a reduction in the tariff, to which they were pledged, would bring a corresponding reduction in the cost of living. By admitting food products from Canada and elsewhere free the consumer in urban centres would be enabled to purchase his food at a proportionately lower price. The Democrats were elected on a compromise vote, and immediately attacked the problem of reducing the duties. If the cost of living was to be reduced one would naturally look for a sympathetic movement in the cost of food products even prior to the enactment of the Democratic low tariff. One would look for this sympathetic movement in vain, however. It was non-existent, in fact prices of food products never rose as rapidly in the United States as in the first eight months of the current year, when the United States people were pulling down part of the tariff wall.

According to the United States Bureau of Labor statistics, retail prices of the principal articles of food in 40 important industrial cities, gathered and compiled by experts, show that during the year 13 of the 15 articles advanced in price, while only three declined.

Comparison of retail prices on Aug. 15, 1913, with prices on the same date in 1912, shows potatoes advanced 20 per cent.; bacon 18.8 per cent.; smoked ham 17.6 per cent.; eggs, 13.6 per cent.; round steak, 11.5 per cent.; sirloin steak, 10.2 per cent.; pork chops, 9.3 per cent.; hens, 8.7 per cent.; lard, 8.1 per cent.; rib roast, 7.9 per cent.; butter, 6.7 per cent.; and milk 2.7 per cent. Sugar declined 7.9 per cent.; wheat flour, 5.5 per cent., and corn meal, 2.7 per cent. Compared with average prices for the 10-year period—1890 to 1899—every article for which prices were noted with the exception of sugar, advanced. Bacon advanced 189 per cent.; pork chops, 124.5 per cent.; round steak, 79.3 per cent.; rib roast, 76.5 per cent.; potatoes, 76.2 per cent.; hens, 73.3 per cent.; lard, 69.8 per cent.; eggs, 66.4 per cent.; cornmeal, 60 per cent.; butter, 41.9 per cent.

When the price of each of the 15 articles of food is weighed according to average consumption in workingmen's families, retail prices on Aug. 15, 1913, were 6.1 per cent. above the average price for the 10-year period—1890 to 1899; 8 per cent. above the price on Aug. 15, 1912, and 14.9 per cent. above the price on Aug. 15, 1911. It would seem overleaf, therefore, that the tariff cannot be blamed for the high cost of living in the United States, and the same is true elsewhere.

Guilty or Not Guilty

"Johnny, did you take the pretty little eggs out of the bird's nest in the tree today?"

A solemn-eyed, stern-looking old owl asked the question of a small, scared little boy, who stood before him.

"Yes, Je did," piped up Mr. Blackbird, who po ited, right away, to a hatful of eggs.

"Oh, oh, oh!' sang a whole fence-row of angry, disappointed little birds nearby. They were the jury, you see.

"Well, little Johnny," said the owl, peering into his record book, "you certainly are guilty of t very, very wicked thing. I am afraid I shall have to say that you can never come into the woods again, or enjoy the songs of the pretty birds. You are such a bad, hard-hearted little fellow."

Just as Johnny was about to sob aloud for shame and sorrow he awoke.

It was only a dream. But Johnny says he never will take any eggs out of a bird's nest again!

Eleanor planned all the routes they were to take, and by what means they should journey, but Marion who was the only one of the party that could speak any language other than English, was obliged to make all the inquiries necessary for the desired arrangements. As a consequence the others were constantly saying to her, "Ask him this" and "ask him that".

One day Mrs. Jones misunderstood what they had planned to do and climbed into the wrong carriage. Eleanor looked it her in desperate silence for a minute or two, and then turned to Marion and said: "Ask her to get out!"—Judge.

Not Satisfied

Despite the fact that the British navy estimates for the current year show a proposed expenditure of £257,500,000—an increase of nearly £10,000,000 over last year—the greater navy advocates are not satisfied. The Spectator, indeed, says: "The programme of new construction, consisting of only four battleships, four light cruisers and twelve destroyers, with an undisclosed number of submarines, is disappointingly meagre. Judged by the admiralty's own standards it is quite sufficient. No provision, other than a slight acceleration of the battleship programme, is made to fill the gap left by the delay in voting of the Canadian dreadnoughts. And yet, as Mr. Churchill said last year, these three ships are absolutely required from 1910 onwards for the whole world defence of the British empire."

A crimson flush overspread his countenance, but the exchange was made after some hesitation on his part. Then he grabbed his hat and started to leave the room.

"Why, where are you going?" she asked, in surprise.

"To the—er—florist for more roses," he called from the front door.

IMPURE BLOOD IN THE SPRING

The Passing of Winter Leaves People Weak and Depressed

As winter passes away it leaves many people feeling weak, depressed and easily tired. The body lacks that vital force and energy which pure blood alone can give.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an all-year-round blood builder and nerve tonic, but they are especially useful in the spring. Every dose helps to make new, rich, red blood. Returning strength commences with their use and the vigor and cheerfulness of good health quickly follows.

There is just one cure for lack of blood and that is more blood. Food is the material from which blood is made, but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills double the value of the food we eat. They give strength, tone up the stomach and weak digestion, clear the complexion of pimples, eruptions and boils, and drive out rheumatic poisons.

If you are pale and sallow, if you feel continually tired out, breathless after slight exertion, if you have headaches, or backaches, if your joints ache, if your appetite fails and food does not nourish nor sleep refresh you, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will make you well and strong. They build up the blood, is the special purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and that is why they are the best spring medicine. If you feel the need of a tonic at this season give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and you will rejoice in new health, new strength and new energy. Do not let the trying weather of summer find you weak and ailing. Build yourself up now with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—the pills that strengthen.

Ask for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and do not be persuaded to take something else. If your dealer does not keep these Pills they will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Forest Notes

Minnesota has a forested area of 28,000,000 acres, the largest of any state east of the Rocky Mountains.

There are approximately 4,000,000 acres of timber land in New Hampshire of which about half is in farmers' wood lots.

Forest fir s in the United States have caused an average annual loss of 70 human lives and the destruction of $25,000,000 worth of timber.

Canada has established a forest products laboratory in connection with McGill University at Montreal, on the lines of the United States institution of the same sort at the University of Wisconsin.

Tree planting on national forests has to be confined to comparatively short intervals in spring and fall. In spring it starts when the snow melts and stops when the drying out of the ground; in the fall it comes between the fall rains and first snowfalls.

Progress is the Effort of All Nature

Nature has set plan before us here examples. She respects neither age nor tradition but acts as the need of the hour demands. The things which are old are not sacred to her. The hills, rockribbed and ancient as the sun, are swept away before her commanding presence. Her waters are continually at work, eroding, adjusting their plans to the changes in earth formation. A mountain range is thrown up, and the waters begin their downward tackle and sweep, tearing away the earth and stone, until the river has worn down its bed to a normal gradient and created a Canyon of the Colorado. Adjustment is not yet complete. The river continues its work, cutting away the surrounding hills until it flows through a great plain like the Mississippi Valley. If another line of hills appears, the water, undiscouraged, begins again, working eternally to accomplish its end—an adjustment to gravitation.

Society, like the river, seeks to adjust itself to the changing contour of the environment by wearing it away and smothering it down until a normal relation is established between men and their surroundings.

Cascades, rapids and whirlpools are abnormal in rivers, hence nature strives to eliminate them and secure a regular, uniform river bed. Premature death, accidents, overwork and misery are abnormal in society, hence a sane group strives to eliminate them and secure a more perfect adjustment to the normal life.

The river works blindly—naturally —to secure its end. Men work intelligently — consciously — to secure theirs. Could the river employ dynamite, electric power, re-enforced concrete, and structural steel, how much more effective would be its work.

The river accomplishes its purpose by means of many particles of water, all flowing in the same direction—cooperating for the accomplishment of a set purpose. Society accomplishes its end by means of many men and women, all aiming at the same goal—co-operating—removing one by one, the obstacles to progress.—From "Social Sanity" by Scott Nearing.

NEW FRENCH SETTLERS

Exdus to Take Place From Fall River to Alberta

A large number of leading French residents of Fall River and New Bedford, Mass., headed by Pierre La Brecque and Edward Pepin, are selling their property and will go to Canada to settle in Alberta. La Brecque and Pepin recently returned from a 3,000 mile Canadian tour in which they visited the principal towns and cities in Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. They brought back glowing accounts of the possibilities there. Many wage earners who hear that wages range from $3 to $5 cents an hour in Alberta will turn colonists. Le Brecque is selling his store in Fall River.

"At last Rheumatism was added to my troubles and I also suffered from lumbago, dropsy and gravel. I felt that my kidneys were the cause of all my troubles and decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. From almost the first they did me good, and after taking twelve boxes I am again a well woman."

Pennsylvania Marksmen Make World's Record

Placing 99 shots within a circle of a diameter of 7½ feet, five men of the Warren, Pa., rifle team, have set a new world's record for .22 calibre indoor shooting, hitting 990 out of a possible 1,000 points. The mark for which they aimed was the former world's record, 988 out of a possible 1,000 made in 1913 by the Park Rifle club of Bridgeport, Conn. This latter score raised a former record held by the same club two points.

The Warren team's record was made in an official match in the National Rifle Association's league. In these matches the Warren team, shooting Remington-UMC metallic ammunition as did the Park club in making its record score, not only won every contest in the series but captured the championship of the United States in this class of shooting.

What the Boy Scouts Are Doing

(From Our Scout Correspondent.)

Special Notice—A meeting of the Redcliff Local Association of Boy Scouts will be held in the Men's Christian League club rooms, on Second street, on Wednesday, June 10, at 8 o'clock.

As there will be a number of important points to be settled it is earnestly hoped that all members of the local association will make a special effort to be present at this meeting. Anybody interested in Scouts will also be welcomed. Remember the date, Wednesday, June 10.

Last Friday evening, on the invitation of the Scoutmaster and Patrol leaders, spent a most enjoyable evening in "East Redcliff." We were sorry that the Medicine Hat Scoutmaster was unable to be present, being away on business. But the boys certainly entertained us in great style. Several competitions took place between the two troops, in which Medicine Hat proved victors, after close contests. The evening ended with a sumptuous supper. We hope that we shall be able to entertain the Medicine Hat Scouts in Redcliff sometime soon, and that last Friday will only be the first of such evenings, which certainly go a long way in promoting friendly rivalry and comradship between the two troops.

The following boys have passed the tenderfoot tests this week: William Black, Fred Black, Willie Henderson, Frank Riddell, James Dell, Gordon Lewin, Arthur Symon, making fourteen in all who have now passed this badge. These boys are now busy in bearing up for their second class badges.

The Scoutmaster wishes to make the following statement with regard to what appeared in the editorial of last week's Review: If any parent has any criticism to make regarding the Scouts, it would be far better to make it direct to the Scoutmaster or to the local association to which the Scoutmaster is responsible, and from whom he can learn the actual facts of the case.

We hope to have the troop in uniform by the first of July and we ask parents of scouts to co-operate as far as possible with us in this aim. The price of uniforms will be between $3 and $4.

Each patrol in the Boy Scouts is named after an animal, whose cry is used as a sign between scouts of that patrol when scouting. The patrols have been named as follows: No. 1, the Wolves, colors, yellow and black; No. 2, the Racoons, colors, black and white; No. 3, Kangaroons, colors, red and grey; No. 4, Rattlesnakes, colors, pink and white.

Next time you are picnicing in the coulees, and you are surprised by the sudden howl of a wolf, or the dreaded rattle of the rattlesnake, keep cool and look before you aim—it may be a Boy Scout.

Orders for the Week—Monday, June 8, parade at school house at 7.30; Thursday, June 11, parade at school house at 7.30. Tenderfoot and second class instruction on both nights.

The Presbyterian Church.

Last Sabbath afternon the pastor was formally inducted into the pastoral charge of the Redcliff congregation. There was a fair attendance of the members and adherents, but many who would wish to be present did not know of the service. The Rev. J. W. Morrow presided, inducted and addressed the people as to their part of the pastoral relation. The Rev. J. G. Watts preached an able discourse, reviving an ancient interpretation of what occurred on the day of Pentecost. The Rev. William Shearer, superintendent of Missions, spoke to the newly inducted pastor as to his part of this new relation, which is but a continuance in a new form of that which has existed during he past two years and eight months. The solo by Mrs. H. E. Johnson was much appreciated. Next Sabbath the service in the church on Second street at 11 o'clock in the fornoon will include a discourse on "The Work of the Ministry." At the evening service in the Empress Theatre at 7.30 Rev. Mr. Gordon will speak on "Disaster and the Empire of God." Sabbath school meets as usual at 2.15. The Union Bible class meets at 3.30 to study the parable of the Pharisee and the tax collector, nd the story of Zaccheus, the converted tax farmer. On Wednesday evening the prayer service at 8 o'clock will include another "Visit to Palestine." The choir meets on Thursday at 8 p. m. The Sabbath school is to have a picnic on July first, according to present plans.

Her subject will be "Sketches of Life in India." She will be dressed in native costume. The time has been changed to 4.15 o'clock. The meeting is open to both ladies and gentlemen. His new place of busines is fitted up as a first-class garage and he is prepared to do all kinds of repair work. He took charge of his new place of business last Wednesday morning.

LEAGUE FOOTBALL MATCH.

On Saturday, June 6, the Redcliff Football Club will play a league match with the Medicine Hat Callies, and the following team has been picked to play: Jones, Kelsey, Crompton, Frickleton, McLean, Frickleton, Argue D. Smith, Luxton, Andrews and Edwards (reserve) W. Smith.

The game will be played on the Main street grounds and as the kick-off will be at 6.30 sharp, every player should be on the grounds by not later than 6.10 as they will dress in the club rom at the field.

This promises to be one of the most interesting games of the season, as the Medicine Hat Callies have not yet been defeated in a league match, but the boys in Red and White expect to hang the Indian sign on their opponents this time.

MANUFACTURED GOODS COMING FROM STATES

Two-thirds of American Trade With Canada is Finished Products—A Change Needed

Particulars of United States exports to Canada as supplied in the Wall Stree Journal recently provide abundant food for thought for every Canadian, whether of protectionist or free trade leanings. According to the figures Canada, with a population of less than eight millions, is a larger purchaser of United States goods than any other country in the world with the exception of the United Kingdom. Imports from United States have doubled growing from 216,000,000 in 1910 to 415,000,000 in 1913. Some of the principal items are as follows:—

	1910	1913
Automobiles	$2,338,000	$9,250,000
Copper pigs, bars, etc.	1,000,000	6,500,000
Steel rails	1,000,000	4,000,000
Cotton cloths	750,000	2,500,000
Locomotives	250,000	1,000,000
Lumber (boards, deals, etc.)	5,000,000	13,333,000
Structural iron and steel	3,000,000	9,000,000
Metal-working machinery	333,000	9,000,000
Agricultural implements	3,333,000	7,000,000
Pipes and fittings	1,500,000	4,000,000
Leather boots and shoes	1,250 000	3,000,000
Illuminating oil	500,000	1,000,000

In raw materials imported from the United States the increase is not so great.

Most of the manufactured articles in which the United States trade has grown are protected under our present tariff policy. The figures would indicate however that the United States manufacturer with his vast organization and highly specialized plant and enormous volume of trade, is still able to produce at a figure which discounts the average Canadian duty of 16 per cent. Those who would still further lower the tariff may well pause and consider whether they would be serving the best interests of the country by making Canada's adverse balance of trade with the United States still greater. At present we must borrow money from England to pay for United States goods. Would not the financial stringency be less apparent in Canada if the greater part of this $415,000,000 was spent in Canada and the money circulated among Canadian workmen, who in turn would buy Canadian farm produce and their articles of food and clothing from Canadian merchants in Canadian towns? The thought naturally suggests itself that the trade policy of the country should be framed with a view to securing for the Canadian people a greater share in the industrial activity which imports from the United States indicate is now going elsewhere.

WOOL PRICES

Canada Little Affected by the New United States Tariff

Mr. John Hallam of Toronto, one of Canada's pioneer wool dealers, had an interesting article in the "Canadian Countryman" of recent date on the effect of the new Underwood Tariff Bill on the wool business in Canada. Generally speaking he does not think it will affect the price at which the Canadian farmer sells his wool very materially, but will result in the lowering of the price of wool for the American farmer, as the latter's home market will be thrown open to world-wide competition. Dealing with this phase of the subject Mr. Hallam write: "In order to obtain an idea of the effect the removal of the tariff at present will produce, let us examine the effect on prices in the United States and Canada before and after the removal of the tariff under the Wilson Bill. On August 1st, 1892, while the tariff was in force, the Boston quotation for Ohio fine, washed wool was 20¼ cents, while in Toronto on the same date unwashed wool was quoted at 16 cents. On August 1, 1896, after the tariff was removed, the same wool was quoted at 12 cents in Boston, and on the same date it was quoted at 11½ cents in Toronto, so you can see that the prices were practically the same after the tariff had been removed. In May of the present year, in anticipation of the removal of the tariff, the Boston quotation on Ohio fine unwashed wool was 21 cents, and dealers in the United States were quoting the prices paid for wool there last year, although the prices on wool in England, Canada and the world's markets have advanced about 15 per cent. over last year." It seems evident, therefore that the protection on raw wool has been of tremendous advantage to the American farmer. It has enhanced the price he has received for his wool from 50 to 100

FREE FOOD POLICY AND THE FARMERS

Many Independent Papers View Proposal With Doubt—Could Not Lower Prices Much

While every Canadian is struggling with his own high cost of living problem there is no abounding faith that the removal of all duties off food products would help materially. At best it is viewed as an experiment which might be tried and if found wanting rejected. There is a feeling, however, that certain food producers might find it a costly experiment and while their interests are not paramount it would be unfair to jeopardize their business without abundant evidence being forthcoming that every Canadian will benefit.

The Toronto Weekly Sun, one of the leading farm papers in Canada, of pronounced free trade leanings and of strong friendliness towards Sir Wilfrid and his party, felt compelled to point out that the free food proposal was entirely illogical, that the trade facts set out did not justify the remedy proposed, but, obviously, would check the export of foodstuffs from Canada to the United States.

Even the Ottawa Citizen that within a few months past has been quoted with much satisfaction by low tariff organs, feels compelled to criticise the proposal as a catch cry which has been seized upon by a political party to mend its fortunes without mature consideration. It states that the conditions caused by the high cost of living have been used to make a superficial appeal to the people who suffer as a result. "This slogan," concludes the Citizen, "means nothing in actual or concrete terms."

The Ottawa Journal drives home the lesson. "There are some commodities which Canada might secure at a cheaper price than now were the tariff taken off, but when farmers find it profitable to sell their produce to the United States, one could hardly hope for any material reduction in the cost of living simply by placing American foodstuffs on the free list.

FARMING IN ENGLAND

Lloyd George's Big Task in the Back to the Land Movement

The necessity of the efforts of Lloyd George to get the people back on the land is manifest in recent English agricultural statistics. While it is too early to trace any results from the Chancellor's measures everyone will pray for their success who reads that this year's decrease in total area under crops and grass in England and Wales is 45,307 acres. The decline in arable land amounts to 277,000 acres, most of which was transferred to permanent pasture, and the latter now for the first time surpasses 16,000,000 acres. Wheat shows a decline of 162,000 acres, oats decreased by 86,000 acres, while barley increased 103,000 acres. Potatoes declined by 21,000 and mangolds by 66,000 acres. Clover and grasses under rotation fell off by 27,000 acres, but the area reserved for hay shows an increase of 273,780 acres. The live stock returns show decreases among all classes of animals; cattle decreased by 124,776, but there are increases of cows in calf and of other cattle of two years and above. The total number of cows, 2,264,403, is about the same as in 1905. Sheep have declined by over 900,000, while the swine decrease is nearly 16 per cent. the total being somewhat more than in 1901.

When the deputation from the Canadian Council of Agriculture waited on Premier Borden a few weeks ago they expressed alarm at the depopulation of rural districts in Canada. They called on the Government to wipe out the tariff to which they attributed the decline in agricultural production, with consequent high cost of living. A study of the foregoing figures from Free Trade England discloses the fallacy of the deputation's argument. The movement to urban centres, the high cost of living and other economic problems are common to the whole world. The tariff has little or nothing to do with them otherwise we would have perfect farming conditions in Great Britain. What is wanted in Canada is some constructive proposals. That is what Lloyd George has given England and our Canadian farmers will make better progress in solving the problems of the body politic when they suggest and support practical plans for agricultural betterment instead of denouncing in heated language other classes in the community who under a policy that has proven itself over a thirty year period are doing their share in the building up of the country.
